Hi Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy

Unfortunately, we did not get the talking points from the Administrator's office as promised today, and we will not get them until COB on Tuesday.

This puts us all at a disadvantage because this Administrator does not post his speeches and has not shared talking points on any of these issues. Since we haven't traveled with him before, I can't really tell you what his messaging will be beyond what we discussed during my scoping mission. I know how frustrating this is and apologize for any stress it is causing on that side. I know that it means we are running meetings based on assumptions rather than specifics and that runs the risk of less productive engagements.

As soon as we get anything, we will forward it your way. You will probably get it before me since I will already be on an airplane.

Mark
